public purposes, roads and railways. Reserve 17001 now forms the present day Spalding Park. It has also been broken up and either used or vested for other purposes, including residential development on the west of the park, educational purposes, a potential gaol site, market gardening, sporting fields, gravel and loam pits and an explosives site. (Ibid.) Once the park had been established Council began raising money to develop it. However, substantial development did not occur until 1959 when the Victoria Districts Branch of the Tree Society proposed beautification of the park. At this time the grassed areas and playgrounds
